

National conference on
Environment Management: sustainable approach
Daulat Ram College, University of Delhi

2nd April, 2016

Theme of the Conference

Good environment is one where the air, water and soil are clean, healthy and resilient to anthropogenic environmental change. It should be an abode conducive for us and future generations to live.

India is a fast developing country aiming towards providing good quality jobs and better lifestyle opportunities such as better housing, transportation, technology, etc to its nation. This has led to encroachment of wild environment that are key to ecosystem function, in the need for space and has generated a huge area of contamination and relevant adverse effects on biological elements. Humans have been victim to cancers, vector-borne diseases, nutritional deficits, respiratory illnesses, etc as a consequence of environment pollution in our workplace, the food we eat, the house we live, the water we drink and air we breathe in.

It is important to address the environmental consequences of human development activities in as many platforms as possible. With development, environmental change is inherent and in the race to achieve comfort, we have paid little sensitivity to adverse environmental impacts. There is a need to come up with measures to eliminate or reduce adverse effects and create a sustainable environment without compromising on our comfort.

The aim of this conference is to increase awareness of environmental related areas.
