Summary:

Pragati, the Women Development Cell (WDC) and Students' Union of Daulat Ram College, in collaboration with Delhi Police, organized an engaging and vibrant Fun Games event.

The event began with the felicitation of the guests with plants as a gesture of gratitude. Professor Savita Roy, principle of Daulat Ram College extended a heartfelt welcome to Mr. Shakti Sir and his team and all the enthusiastic participants. She assured the students in her speech that Delhi police is dedicated to their safety, and that they are just a phone call away. The principal also felt great pride in the college alumna Ms. Rekha Gupta, who became the Chief Minister of Delhi recently, which is a proud and inspiring moment for DRC. She also motivated the students to take part in the games enthusiastically, to bring about unity and confidence.

The activity comprised four exciting games played in 3 competitive rounds between the students of Daulat Ram College and the Delhi Police team:

1. 100m Race – A test of physical strength and endurance.
2. Lemon and Spoon Race – A fun yet tricky game where precision and focus take the lead.
3. Tug of War – A test of coordination, strength, and strategic thinking.
4. Musical Chairs – A lively game showcasing agility and quick reflexes in action.

Both groups took part with immense enthusiasm, showing sportsmanship, teamwork, and respect for one another. There were cheers, laughs and music, creating the event exceptionally memorable.

The winners of the games received medals as appreciation for their performance afterward. The participants of the self-defence camp were also given certificates, emphasizing the need for self-reliance and the safety of women.
