Career Profile
I had been engaged in active research for more than six years since 2012. In 2017 I was awarded my Ph.D. My Ph.D. research titled 'Representation of Subalternity and Resistance in Contemporary Indian Fiction in English: A Select Study' had highlighted the hidden techniques of subordination and revival of the subordinated into an active agency in the novels of Arundhati Roy, Kiran Desai, and Aravind Adiga. I had also published many research articles in different journals I had been engaged in direct teaching since 2017 at Purnea University Purnia. There I taught at UG and PG levels. I was also engaged in a number of administrative tasks there. These academic and administrative jobs added to my experience as a teacher. In 2023 I joined Daulat Ram College, University of Delhi with a view to enhance my teaching skills and enrich my overall experience. Now, it is really a privilege to serve this renowned institution. While being a part of this college I would like to channelize the potential and talent of the students for their betterment along with the department itself. I hope to provide the students with practical exposure which can make them able to sustain and excel in the world outside. I look forward to creating an intellectual ecosystem of sound thoughts and understanding of literature and life by establishing intense and meaningful communication with my students and my coworkers.
